Why partner with Arista?

Arista Edge Threat Management is designed specifically for SMBs, removing complexity from modern network security while providing a flexible, scalable platform that grows with your clients' businesses. With Arista, you can deliver enterprise-grade protection, monitoring and control across devices, users and locations through a single, modular system.

Arista saves time, money and frustration by consolidating multiple point solutions into one platform. This all-in-one approach allows you to provide consistent security postures and simplified management.

Challenges Arista solves

Managing networks across multiple clients, sites and environments can be complex and resource intensive. Arista consolidates multiple tools into a single, modular platform that covers on-premises, cloud and hybrid environments.

The NG Firewall provides a browser-based, responsive and intuitive interface, giving teams real-time visibility into network traffic, connected devices and application usage. NG Firewall delivers content filtering, advanced threat protection, VPN connectivity and application-based shaping for bandwidth optimisation, helping you simplify security and reduce operational overhead across all client networks.

Opportunities for MSPs

Partnering with Arista allows channel partners to expand their service offerings, improve client satisfaction and build scalable, high-performance networks. The platform's modular design and centralised management enables you to deliver secure networks, consolidate management across client sites and scale services as their needs grow.

By simplifying deployment, monitoring and security, you can increase operational efficiency, reduce costs and provide an enterprise-grade security experience for SMB clients.
